

The People of the United States Need... An Outstanding President

The next President must have studied American and world history as a child and had said to himself or herself: "I could be an outstanding U.S. President one day."

The next President must have excelled in high school and college.

The next President must have a sound plan to strengthen the American economy and the American dollar.

The next President must create more well-paying jobs for every able-bodied, LEGAL U.S. citizen.

The next President must totally support members of the U.S. Armed Forces and totally support every American veteran of the U.S. Armed Forces .

The next President must improve public education and offer every industrious child a college education.

The next President must combat government corruption and foil the New World Order.

The next President must protect human rights and regain the respect of our allies around the world.

The next President must possess the ability to differentiate between good and bad decisions.

The next President must combat corporate and political corruption in the United States.

The next President must be multi-lingual, but not required.

The next President must accept a fair salary of $500,000 (Tax-free).

The next President must not choke in high-pressure situations.

The next President must recognize important environmental issues such as legitimate green technologies.

The next President must extend disability benefits of EVERY disabled American veteran and provide superior healthcare to them and their families.

The next President must promise to duly recognize the Cold War and award the Cold War Victory medal to every veteran and active duty member of the United States Armed Forces, who honorably served during that era.

The next President must work hard to make the United States of America great again.

The next President must end illegal immigration and “slave labor” but grant full amnesty and U.S. citizenship to every undocumented workers and their families.

The next President must not start unjust wars or engage in crimes against humanity.

The next President must work hard to better the lives of every American child, disabled person, elderly, and disabled veteran. Moreover, the next President must make prescription drugs affordable and healthcare accessible to every LEGAL U.S. citizen.

The next President must control inflation and federalized the “Federal” Reserve system.

The next President must control Big Oil and provide funding for the studies of legitimate alternative energy.

The next President must fight terrorism both domestically and internationally.

The next President must fight for the privacy and basic human rights of every U.S. citizen.

The next President must work harder than any other American President in United States history.

Join the Fight!

We students of the United States, better known as Students United for a Better America, would like to thank our fellow Americans for reprinting and distributing this flyer to every concerned U.S. citizen. This flyer has been created by us concerned American students, who are advocating for change in American and world politics. In times like these, the next President of the United States should ask himself or herself:

“What would Abe Lincoln do?”

Let’s roll up our sleeves and go door to door. Home to home. Church to church. Mosque to mosque. Synagogue to synagogue. School to school. College to college. University to university. Business to business. City to city. Town to town. State to state... Wherever the masses converge, we must distribute this flyer there because we students are about to make history in selecting the next President of the United States, despite the fact some members of Students United for a Better America are under the legal age to vote.

Tell your friends to pass this flyers on because we must send a strong message that the 2008 Presidential candidates must not take us for granted. The candidates all must realize that the next President of the United States must strive to be better than any other President in United States history. Most importantly, he or she must fight for the rights of the great Americans who have honorably served to protect our great nation, namely the disabled American and Cold War veterans. Anything less will be dishonorable.

This flyer is proudly distributed by Students United for a Better America and Wil’s Domain (www.wilsdomain.com), the site where FREE Speech is proclaimed 24 hours a day. If you are a professional copy writer, who has the total command of the English grammar, and you would like to write a better flyer and submit it on a pro-bono basis, simply send a draft to Wil at wil@wilsdomain.com because he refused to edit this flyer. He said we students can do a better job. (Yep. That is good ol’ Wil. He surely embraces FREE Speech.)
